The Destinations... Quito, the Ecuadorian Amazon and the Galapagos Islands

If you are up for a larger than life experience consider the country of Ecuador. Despite its small size, Ecuador offers much more than one might ever imagine. The diverse landscape includes the Galapagos Islands; nearly 1400 miles of Pacific coastline, grasslands, volcanic mountains and the Amazon Rainforest and jungle. Considered a multicultural wonder, it is home to 44 different indigenous and ethnic groups whose culture and history contribute to the wide variety of delicious cuisine, all adding up to one big adventure for you!

Ecuador is located in north-western South America, bounded by Colombia on the north, by Peru on the east and south, and by the Pacific Ocean on the west. Named after the Spanish word for equator, Ecuador straddles the equator and has an area of 272,045 square kilometres. Ecuador's mainstream culture is defined by Ecuador's mestizo majority and, like their fascinating ancestry, is a mixture of European and Amerindian influences infused with African elements inherited from slave ancestors. Ecuador's indigenous communities are largely integrated into that mainstream culture to varying degrees, but some may also practice their own unique cultures, particularly the more remote indigenous communities of the Amazon basin.

Lying 965km west of the mainland in the Pacific Ocean, the Galapagos Archipelago encompasses over 50 islands of volcanic origin that are spread out over an area of about 4,500 square kilometers. Perhaps more so than any other place in the world, the fauna of the Galapagos Islands, part of Ecuador, are incredibly unique. The fascinating species found on these islands includes the Galapagos land iguana, blue-footed booby, Galapagos green turtle, sea cucumber, 13 endemic species of finch, Galapagos penguin, flightless cormorant, Galapagos hawk and sea lions to name but a sample. And, of course, the islands will always remain famous for the visit, in 1835, of Charles Darwin's ship, the Beagle. His observations of this amazing wildlife, their remarkable adaption to a hostile environment, and the subtle variations between races of the same species living on different islands led directly to his theory of natural selection and evolution.

Spend a couple of nights in Imbabura, commonly known as "the land of lakes", due to its high number of water reserves compared to other provinces. Lakes, volcanoes, valleys and paramo are some of the main components of Imbabura's landscape situated at the crossroads of the Andes.. Towns like Otavalo have a large indigenous population that produces handicrafts and multicoloured woven goods for export, made by hand, which represent the indigenous culture of the northern sierra and, in the same way, there are many other small towns that each have their own production speciality, several of which you will visit.

The Ecuadorian Amazon rainforest is one of the most breathtaking areas of the world. Under each broad leaf lies a whole new world, including 25,000 species of birds, 3,500 kinds of orchids and countless varieties of insects. This is the area with the greatest bio-diversity in the entire planet. Millions of different kinds of plants call this ecosystem their home. Over 50 varieties of multi-colored butterflies can be seen in their natural habitat. Search the trees for serpents and tarantulas, or watch as monkeys swing from branch to branch overhead and armadillos and ocelots prowl the forest floor. Visit a local indigenous community, many of whom are direct descendants of the Maya-Quiche culture of Central America. Watch how the women decorate traditional ceramics using their own hair as a paint brush and crushed, local stones as the base for paint. Or practice hunting your prey with a native, curare tipped blow gun which you've seen made in front of your eyes.

Quito is the perfect place to finish your tour of Ecuador as you explore the historic sites of Quito's Old Town (the first designated UNESCO World Heritage Site in the world) and its many museums, churches, shops, cafes, and restaurants.

Day 2- 7 : May 21 - 25 – Galapagos Islands cruise

M/Y Isabella II – 5 days/4 nights – North West Island itinerary – “Islands of Fire” (B, L, D)

This Western Galapagos itinerary begins when you fly into Baltra, a small island across the Itabaca Channel from Santa Cruz Island, home to giant tortoises, and research initiatives focused on conservation and sustainability. Explore the lush vegetation of the Santa Cruz Highlands before venturing down to the world-famous Charles Darwin Research Station. The next day, wake up to spectacular Bartolome Island and Santiago Island, each providing gorgeous scenery and captivating moments with the local wildlife, such as swimming off the white coral sand beach of Sullivan Bay, and exploring its dramatic lava field. The next morning takes us to Dragon Hill, home of dusty-yellow land iguanas, and then Buccaneer Cove with its dramatic cliffs and natural formations, following in the steps of Charles Darwin.

The following day, you will wake up in the western end of the archipelago, home to the largest and youngest islands in the archipelago — Isabela and Fernandina with their spectacular volcanic terrain. Take a zodiac to discover the wildlife of Punta Vicente Roca and later discover the youngest island in the archipelago, Fernandina, widely regarded as one of the most pristine environments anywhere on the planet, where life has evolved in its natural state, far from the intervention of man. [illegible]

Please note, the itineraries and programme are subject to change without prior notice, due mainly to adjustments in the policies and regulations of the Galápagos National Park, weather conditions, seasonal changes and safety reasons. For island excursions, you will always go ashore by zodiac (known locally as a panga) while the ship anchors off shore. There are two different kinds of island excursion landings, ie

- Dry landing: guests step from the zodiac (panga) onto rocks or a dock.
- Wet landing: as the zodiac (panga) edges onto a sandy beach, guests step into around 20 cm (8 inches) of water and wade ashore.

Day 2 : May 21 – Galapagos Cruise (Baltra, Santa Cruz Island – Puerto Ayora and Charles Darwin Research Station) (B, L, D)

Baltra played an important role in the history of these islands. It was used by the U.S. Air Force during the Second World War; many U.S. Navy and crews of the submarines were stationed here to patrol the Pacific Ocean and protect the Panama Canal from enemy attack. During this period most of the indigenous fauna of the island was exterminated but land iguanas have recently been successfully re-introduced and can be seen near the Baltra airport. Ground finches, pelicans, frigate birds and the sea lions ("your Galapagos hosts" that can often be seen hanging around upon arrival at the dock to welcome visitors to the Islands) frequent the island which is a flat and dry, surrounded by reefs and few beaches with some vegetation such as cacti Opuntia (Prickly Pear Cactus) and other small trees. At the end of the war, the U.S. turned the base and its airport over to the government of Ecuador and today it is an Ecuadorian civil and military airport, as well as a naval base. As such, it is not actually within the boundaries of Galapagos National Park.

Santa Cruz (Area: 986 km², Maximum Altitude: 864m, Volcano: 964 m) supports one of the largest human populations of the five inhabited islands. Some 4,000 residents are distributed between the cattle-farming communities in the lush highlands and the coastal town of Puerto Ayora. Here you can visit the Charles Darwin Research Station to see the huge land tortoises, or los galápagos, which once flourished in the islands. The populations were decimated in the early 1800s by the whaling ships that stopped in the islands to fill their holds with fresh meat. On the north shore of the island, accessible only by sea, is an extensive mangrove lagoon called Black Turtle Cove. Here in the peacefulness of the mangroves turtles break the surface of the still waters, while fish, rays, and small sharks cruise below.

Breakfast at hotel.

Transfer from hotel to airport for morning flight from Quito to Baltra next to Santa Cruz Island in the in the Galapagos Archipelago.

After landing at Baltra Airport, drive to the Itabaca Channel to take a ferry across to Santa Cruz Island. A 30-minute bus ride takes you to a restaurant in the fascinating, more humid Highlands of the island to enjoy lunch, and then continue south down to Puerto Ayora on the coast.

At the eastern end of Puerto Ayora, the largest town in the archipelago, we visit the Charles Darwin Research Station inaugurated in 1964 and located next to the Galapagos National Park administration. Both work together developing conservation programs for indigenous and endemic species to the archipelago. The Park Service is the state entity responsible for management and administration of both the land area of the Galapagos National Park and the Galapagos Marine Reserve. The Park Service has to manage and implement programs of protection and conservation of endangered species and work to maintain the ecological integrity of the Park in general. Here you can see tortoises from different islands, these species are found in large semi natural pens for protection and easy to see - divided into four stages: eggs, neonates, juveniles (at the age of being "repatriated"), and adults. It is also an excellent place to see finches of several species as well as some xerophytic vegetation.

Puerto Ayora, is the most populated village of the island and with the largest port in the archipelago. It offers different activities, restaurants and other amenities. The iguanas and seals rest on the load at the dock, while boobies and pelicans dive into the turquoise waters of Academy Bay.

Later in the afternoon, zodiac transfer to the Isabella II which is waiting in the bay.

Cabin assignment, Captain's welcome cocktail, introductory talk and dinner.

Day 3 : May 22 : Galapagos Cruise (Bartolome Island, Santiago Island) (B, L, D)

An extinct volcano Bartolomé Island (Area: 1.2 km ², Maximum altitude: 114m) appears to be geology in its purest form: The island is dotted with craters, cinder cones, lava flows, spatter cones, and broken lava tunnels which run down from the summit. And, as an extinct volcano, it hosts a variety of red, orange, green, black and bright soils, bright volcanic formations and recent volcanic cones. And just offshore is Pinnacle Rock, the tuff cone that is probably the most famous (and most photographed) landmark in the Galápagos. Although at first glance, words that describe a moonscape — such as barren and desolate — might come to mind, Bartolomé supports a starkly beautiful complex of life. Some Arid and Littoral Zone plants have taken hold. On the slopes of the volcano, low-to-the-ground gray matplant thrives in the volcanic sand; and spurge, which forms a small tuft of green with tiny, white flowers, pushes up. Endemic lava cacti adorn some of the older lava. Species include brown pelican, Galapagos penguins, tintorera sharks and sea turtles.

This morning, a Galapagos icon awaits - Bartolome Island. A great way to start the day, with a moderately steep hike to the summit of this diminutive island that boasts fantastic views of the archipelago - Pinnacle Rock, Sullivan Bay, and Daphne Major and Minor. The climb is aided by a wooden deck-like staircase, resting platforms and handrails – the view from the top is worth the effort!

Following the walk, we take a panga ride around colossal Pinnacle Rock in search of Galapagos penguins. There's also great snorkeling and swimming from the beach plus the chance to ride the glass bottom boat.

- Wildlife: brown pelican, Galapagos penguins, white tip reef sharks, green sea turtles.
- Flora: Galapagos Carpetweed, maytenus octogena, thorn shrub, white / red mangrove, salt bush.
- Main attraction: a panoramic view of the archipelago and Pinnacle Rock.
- Type of terrain: wooden staircase (360 steps), beach.
- Physical Condition: Medium>high (if making the climb to the summit (optional) – 300+ steps on decking); Dry landing

Northwest of Santa Cruz Island, Santiago Island, also known as James Island (Area: 585 km², Maximum altitude: 920m, Volcano: 920 m, last eruption 1890) is one of the oldest of the islands and a place of great geological significance being the fourth territorial extension. Santiago is composed of a number of tuff cones and a central volcanic dome. The vegetation is dense in the highlands because of the humidity, and a scalesia forest covers the northwest side of the volcano. Once a favorite island of pirates and whalers, Santiago is now appreciated for its Galápagos fur seal grotto and newly plant-colonized lava flow on the southern coast. Unfortunately, settlers introduced goats, pigs, donkeys, and rats to Santiago Island, which devastated the landscape and caused it to go almost barren. At one time, the feral goat population was estimated to have reached about one hundred thousand, started by only four introduced animals in the early 1800s.

Due to an extensive effort by the Galápagos National Park Service and the Charles Darwin Research Station, the goats have been eradicated and the vegetation on the island is returning to its natural state. Pigs were once the main predators of Galápagos green turtle eggs; but now, the pigs, too, have been entirely eradicated on Santiago. It has several unique landing spots including Puerto Egas, Espumilla Beach, Sullivan Bay and Buccaneer Cove (to be visited on Day 4).

In the afternoon, visit Sullivan Bay, a site of great geological interest located on the south-east of Santiago Island. Anyone interested in volcanology and geology is delighted with the incredible lava formations of Sullivan Bay. A white coral sand beach (where there will be the opportunity to swim) landing leads you towards a lava field as far as the eye can see as this area is covered by lava flows pahohoe type (lava solidified in a corrugated or accordion fashion) and 'a' a,. Sullivan lava formed in 1897, is geologically a very young flow. The magma formed is flat, but the movement of underground lava, the rapid cooling and other eruptions led to the break in many places. One can observe marine and terrestrial birds, a colony of Galapagos fur seals and black marine iguanas adapted very well to this environment.

- The length of the path is 1.5 km approximately
- The zone is covered by flows such as Pahohoe. The Sullivan lava was formed in 1897. The magma formed is flat, but the lava movement is underground, the fast freeze and another eruptions made that it has broken in different parts.
- Fauna: Galapagos hawk, lava lizard, Galapagos penguins, small ground finch, medium ground finch, large ground finch, cactus finch
- Flora: maytenus octogona, lava cactus, thorn shrub, White mangrove, mollugo, incense tree.
- Main Attraction: lava fields
- Type of field: lava and beach
- Physical condition: Low>medium (be sure to wear good solid walking shoes or boots as the "a" lava is sharp and pointy; Dry landing

A coral beach landing leads you towards a lava field as far as the eye can see. Hunt and peck over the two distinguished types of lava, pahoehoe and 'a', for signs of plant life that have managed to emerge over the past 100 years since the most recent volcanic explosion. A truly amazing volcanic experience... up close and personal - the perfect place to see and understand the volcanic origin of the Galapagos.

Day 4 : May 23 : Galapagos Cruise (Santa Cruz Island, Santiago Island (B, L, D))

The north shore of Santa Cruz hosts the fascinating landscapes of Cerro Dragón (Dragon Hill) – the site of this morning's landing. The first part of our walk passes a brackish-water lagoon frequented by shorebirds, ducks and flamingos, while further inland, the trail offers a beautiful view of the bay and the western islands of the archipelago, as well as the chance of observing land iguanas (for which the visitor site is named, following a concerted effort to conserve them by the Galapagos National Park). After our walk, there is the opportunity to snorkel from the shore, hoping to spot rays, green turtles and sea lions.

- Wildlife: sea lions, marine iguanas, land Iguanas, flamingos, waders, mockingbirds, yellow warblers and several species of Darwin's finches
- Flora: Torchwood trees, black and white mangrove, Galapagos croton/milkwort, leatherleaf, prickly pear cactus, saltbush
- Main attraction: Land Iguanas, flamingos, finches
- Type of terrain: coastal area sandy. Inland walk over rounded boulders (like a river bed);
- Physical Condition: Low; Dry landing

Over lunch, sail back to Santiago Island and explore the coastline along the impressive cliffs of Buccaneer Cove, with its distinct purple sands, learning about the area's distant and recent history. Pirates used to refit their boats and search for water and giant tortoises here and years ago, several ceramic jars were found at the bottom of the bay; some were filled with marmalade — others, wine. Today, the cove is home to a large number of marine birds, sea lions, and inter-tidal organisms. Enjoy fantastic natural formations such as the "Elephant Rock", "The Bishop" and an impressive natural cave. This is a great site for snorkeling or glass bottom boat ride.

- Fauna: Galapagos Mockingbird, galapagos hawk, marine iguana, galapagos fur seals, galapagos dove, woodpecker finch, small ground finch, cactus finch, large ground finch, medium ground finch
- Flora: beach morning glory, thread leafed chaff flower, castela, yellow cordial, incense tree, galapagos lantana, gray matplan, prickly pear cactus
- Main Attraction: caves and salty mines, sea lion colony, snorkelling opportunities
- Type of terrain: Beach, paths;
- Physical condition: Low; Wet landing

Day 5 : May 24 – Galapagos Cruise (Isabela Island, Fernandina Island) (B, L, D)

Isabela is the largest of the Galápagos Islands, with more than half of the land surface area in the archipelago. It was formed by the joining of six young volcanoes (Alcedo; Cerro Azul; Darwin; Sierra Negra; Wolf, which has the highest summit in the Galápagos at an elevation of 5,600 feet; and Ecuador, an extinct volcano that has been destroyed by erosion and wave action) that are joined by extensive lava flows. Along with Fernandina Island, it is one of the most volcanically active spots on earth. While these volcanic regions contain extensive lava fields and little vegetation, the southern highlands and various other regions are covered by dense vegetation including the unique red mangrove. Isabela Island is also home to many native Galapageños living in the Island's largest town, Puerto Villamil.*

More wild giant tortoises live on Isabela than on any other island in the Galápagos. Isabela's large size and volcanic topography created barriers for the slow-moving reptiles; they were unable to cross the lava flows, causing several different sub-species of tortoise to develop. Today, Galápagos giant tortoises roam free in many of the calderas.

This morning we visit the Punta Vicente Roca area in the north where the remnants of an ancient volcano form two turquoise coves with a bay that is well protected from ocean swells. There is no landing site at this location but it is a popular anchorage from which to take zodiac rides along the cliffs that are the volcano's remains. As well as admiring the island's epic and beautiful coastline we will seek out abundant wildlife including colonies of Galapagos fur seals, the nesting sites of Nazca boobies, not to mention flightless cormorants, penguins, and marine iguanas. In addition to the dramatic geology found here. Ocean conditions permitting, you'll also enjoy the chance to hop aboard our glass-bottom boat or go snorkeling in the presence of green sea turtles, sea lions, ocean sunfish, and even penguins.

- Wildlife: Green sea Turtles, Galapagos penguins, marine iguanas, sea lions, masked boobies, blue-footed boobies, swallow-tailed gulls, frigate, flightless cormorants
- Flora: n/a
- Attraction: Volcanoes of Isabela swim with sea turtles, sea lions and manta rays.
- Type of land: Snorkeling in deep water for all.
- Physical Condition: Low; NO landing

Back on board, we navigate along the Bolivar Channel, where nutrient-rich upwellings provide fertile fishing grounds for cetaceans as we head south to the neighbouring island of Fernandina.

If stepping onto Baltra is like standing on the moon, visiting Fernandina Island is like seeing the Earth when it was brand-new. The most westerly of the Galápagos Islands, Fernandina is the youngest and most active volcanically, with eruptions occurring from its single volcano, La Cumbre, every few years. Lava fields extend from La Cumbre's base to the ocean, and both types of flows — 'a'a and pahoehoe — can be seen. Fernandina is literally land-in-the-making. Being so young, Fernandina is arguably one of the most pristine ecosystems on the planet. It is a mangrove area where you can appreciate the geological differences that only Galapagos offers. The predominant species in this place is the endemic flightless cormorant. You will also find the largest colony of marine iguanas, as well as the Galapagos snake, Galapagos hawk, marine iguanas, lava lizards, Galapagos fur seals and Galapagos penguins.

The afternoon is dedicated to exploring the youngest island of the archipelago, Fernandina, which, having no introduced mammals, boasts a very unique environment with a very high density of marine iguanas, who share their space with sea lions, Sally light-foot crabs, hawks, penguins and the flightless cormorants. At Punta Espinosa, a narrow stretch of land on the northeast that faces Isabela Island, you may walk on lava rocks amid thousands of stacked marine iguanas; and watch Galápagos penguins swim and large flocks of blue-footed boobies fish just offshore. Whales and dolphins may be seen in the water beyond them, while the nearby mangroves provide a habitat for yellow warblers, a variety of herons, and possibly the mangrove finch. Take the opportunity to snorkel, with the possibility of seeing and even swimming alongside flightless cormorants and penguins. Other available activities are kayaking and a glass bottom boat ride. In 1994, Punta Espinosa was raised between two and three feet by tectonic uplift, leaving the landing dock inaccessible except at high tide.

- Wildlife: flightless cormorant, Galapagos snakes biserialis, Galapagos hawk, marine iguana, lava lizard, Galapagos sea lion, and Galapagos penguins.
- Flora: lava cactus, white mangrove, black mangrove, red mangrove, Galapagos shore petunia.
- Main Attraction: pahoehoe lava. The largest colony of marine iguanas, flightless cormorant's colony (unique in the world).
- Type of land: Galapagos National Park trails, lava and sand.
- Physical condition: Medium; Dry landing

During the cruise, there will be the following CME activities which will take place when the ship is sailing between the island visits -

- Academic Session
- Visit to the ship's hospital to review on-board medical equipment
- Meeting with the ship's doctor to learn about common medical ailments at sea, emergency procedures etc

The exact days / times will be notified with your complete documentation package.

Day 6 : May 25 – Galapagos Cruise (Baltra) - Quito - Imbabura / Otavalo (B, D)

We disembark at Baltra Island in order to transfer to the airport to take the afternoon flight back to Quito where you will be met upon your arrival by a representative of our local tour operator partner in Ecuador for the next component of your Ecuador tour – 2 nights in a 300 year old hacienda north of Quito in the beautiful Imbabura region, close to Otavalo.

Imbabura is commonly known as "the land of lakes", due to its high number of water reserves compared to other provinces. Lakes, volcanoes, valleys and paramo are some of the main components of Imbabura's landscape. Towns like Otavalo have a large indigenous population that produces handicrafts and multicoloured woven goods for export, made by hand, which represent the indigenous culture of the northern sierra. In the same way, and there are many other small towns that each have their own production speciality.

Late afternoon arrival in Quito.

Take the drive north of Quito to the Imbabura province in the foothills of the Andes – a beautiful area of lakes and distinct picturesque towns where many of the inhabitants of Quito have their weekend escapes. This is the land of the Otavaleños including South America's most famous indigenous trading fair at Otavalo.

Dinner and overnight at a historic hacienda in the Otavalo area.

Day 7 : May 26 – Imbabura / Otavalo (B, L, D)

Breakfast at the hacienda.

In the morning, drive to the beautiful Cuicocha Lake (literally), a 3 km wide flooded volcanic caldera at the foot of Cotacachi Volcano in the Cordillera Occidental of the Ecuadorian Andes. Its name comes from the Kichwa indigenous language and means "Lago del Cuy" (or "Lake of the Guinea Pig" in English) after its shape. Take a walk along its shores to witness the spectacular views finishing off with a visit to the Interpretation Centre to learn about the region and its volcanic history.

Then onto Cotacachi, a town famous for its production of fine leather goods at exceptional value before stopping at a music workshop to see how many of the Andes wood instruments are made and enjoy a short performance.

Enjoy a late lunch at another of the historic properties in the area.

Then return to your resident hacienda later in the afternoon to enjoy some free time to enjoy the historic property and its extensive landscaped gardens. Here you will find hundreds of species of the most beautiful and colorful flowers, trees of every imaginable fruit, nutritious herbs for body and soul and even a stables.

Dinner and overnight at the hacienda.

Day 8 : May 27 – Imbabura / Otavalo - Quito (B, L)

Breakfast at the hacienda.

This morning there will be a split program -

Physicians – Visit to the Otavalo Provincial Hospital to learn about the Ecuadorian medical system.

Non-physicians – Spend time at South America's most famous market in Otavalo - explore, and barter, at the many stalls full of ponchos, scarves, blankets, wall hangings, woven belts (fajas), hats, handbags, silverware and much more.

Otavalo Indians are the most ambitious and prosperous of the Indian groups in Ecuador, often travelling abroad to sell their wares. Yet despite their exposure to foreigners, they have not lost their tribal identity and traditions.

Afterwards, start to make your way back to Quito with a stop en route at a local hosteria on the shores of Lago San Pablo where you will enjoy spectacular views of the Imbabura Volcanoe as you take lunch.

Continue the drive back to Quito through the foothills of the Andes including, as you depart the Imbabura province, a stop at Miralago for a wonderful sight of the San Pablo Lake returning to the Quito area in the late afternoon.

Dinner and overnight at a hotel in the Quito airport area as you will have an early flight tomorrow as you head to the Ecuadorian Amazon, the next component of your immersion in yet another totally different part of this diverse country.

Day 9 - 12 : May 28 – 31 (4 days / 3 nights) – Ecuadorian Amazon Rainforest Ecolodge Program (B, L, D)

Breakfast at the hotel and transfer to Quito airport for your morning flight from Quito to Coca.

Fly over the high Andes and down to the Amazon frontier town of Puerto Francisco de Orellana (called Coca by the locals). From here you travel by motorized canoe two and a half hours down the Napo River - the canoe is covered against sun and rain, but a light jacket can be useful for the wind and spray. Be sure to wear sun protection, as the sun's reflection off the water can sometimes cause a burn.

All bags will be placed in waterproof bags for the trip down the Napo River, for protection against spray and rain. Following your canoe ride, a short walk through a thick palm forest to Sacha Lodge - your home for the next three nights and base for an incredible Amazon adventure!

Sacha Lodge is located within a 5000-acre private ecological reserve in Ecuador's Amazon region, an accessible yet pristine rainforest sanctuary and home to about 500 species of birds, pink dolphins, giant otters, caiman, tapirs, capybaras, and more. Among this lodge's exclusive attractions are a 940-foot long canopy walkway and tower giving unparalleled access and views of the treetops, one of the largest butterfly houses in Ecuador, and the Yasuni parrot lick. Combining these natural attractions with excellent food, comfortable lodging and some of the best guides in the whole Amazon area, Sacha commands a respected reputation amongst Amazonia ecolodges. For bird-lovers in particular this is considered to be one of the best lodges in Latin America.

During your stay you will learn about herbal medicine through a "hands-on" rainforest walk (Quichua native) and a presentation on the Useful Plants of Sacha Lodge (from the 2005 professional study by Barry Thomson).

There will also be presentation on traditional healing methods from a local village shaman.

Complete details of the lodges facilities, activities and typical days' programs can be found in the separate section on Sacha Lodge on page 27 of this brochure.

Day 12 : May 31 – Sacha Lodge – Quito (B, L, D)

Built on a carpet of ancient Incan ruins, Ecuador's bustling capital of Quito was the first city in the world to be declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site being designated the "Heritage of Mankind".

Located in the foothills of the Andean mountains and overlooked by Mount Pichincha, the city, and it's surrounding area, is considered one of the most beautiful regions in Latin America. Located at 9200 feet above sea level, but only 25 km from the Equator line, Quito enjoys a near perfect spring-like climate with mild, sunny mild days and cool nights almost year-round. Broad Ecuadorean smiles, racy salsa music and big bowls of hearty stews and soups warmly counter Quito's snowy mountainous backdrop. In the historic Old Town, superbly preserved baroque churches and monasteries exemplify the fusion of Spanish, Italian, Moorish, Flemish and indigenous influences while and contrast with the contemporary architecture of modern Quito, a cosmopolitan city of great cultural diversity.

Breakfast at the lodge.

Return from Sacha by the same route as upon your arrival to the lodge arriving in Quito late morning.

Lunch will be at a local restaurant en route to the old colonial centre of Quito.

After lunch, enjoy a walking tour of Quito's colonial quarter, the largest and best preserved of South America where you will visit the Independence Plaza, flanked by the Cathedral, the Presidential Palace, the Municipal Building and the Archbishop's Palace. Visit the temple of La Compañía de Jesús and its awesome gilded interior. Continue on to the Monastery of San Francisco, one the of great religious buildings of the New World; its impressive façade and atrium that lead to its Baroque interior influenced by Moorish style, with the winged Virgin of Quito at its main altar.

Farewell Dinner to relive the memories of your time in this fascinating and diverse South American country.

Overnight at hotel in Quito.

Day 13 : June 1 – Quito – Toronto (or Montreal) (B)

Breakfast at hotel.

Transfer to Quito airport for your return flight to Toronto (or Montreal).

Arrival back in Canada late in the day on June 1, 2026.

Drinks are a specialty aboard Isabela II as well, created by an expert, Peruvian mixologist.

On each itinerary, there is a Galapagos Naturalist Team consisting of an Expedition Leader and naturalist guides who will not only escort guests ashore in small groups but will also provide on-board presentations and eye-catching lectures regarding natural history issues that complement your island excursions. Together with the Captain, they will plan the day's program and at night as they also become your experts in explaining the beautifully arranged constellations of the southern skies. Activities

The reason that you travel to Galapagos is to experience the islands and their unique Fauna. Therefore, we have designed your programs in such a way that they allow you to connect and engage with the Galapagos in the most fulfilling way possible from different perspectives: guided hikes, relaxing beach walks, snorkeling and swimming – even the ship's own glass bottom boat for those who wish a more relaxing option to view the diversity of the marine wildlife. The islands are visited twice a day and always involve a leisurely hike in a small group led by your own naturalist guide, allowing you to experience close encounters with nature. Enjoy the benefit of having a smaller Guest-Guide ratio, allowing excursion groups to stay well below the National Park maximum of 16:1. Transportation to each island is by ship's Zodiac as the Isabella II anchors offshore – part of the Galapagos Conservation Authority's regulations. There are both dry and wet (beach) landings dependent on each island and some of the hikes are on rocky, uneven terrain which require a certain level of physical condition (see physical condition rating for each island landing in the main body of the itinerary). Other activities include star gazing, scientific and ecological onboard conferences, and natural history lectures.

The Amazon Ecolodge... SACHA ECOLODGE (4 days / 3 nights)

Location

Sacha Lodge is east of the town of Coca on the Napo River in Ecuador's Amazon region within a 5000-acre private ecological reserve.

Getting there

From Quito, a 25-minute flight takes you over the Andes Mountains' majestic snow-covered peaks and down over 8500 feet (2600 meters) into the Amazon Region. The flight destination is the port town of Puerto Francisco de Orellana, locally known as Coca, where you will be met by your guide and taken to a private dock to boarding a covered motorized canoe for a 2-hour, 50-mile (80-kilometer) trip down the sediment-rich waters of the Napo, the largest river in Ecuadorian Amazonia.

During the journey you may spot handsome shore birds such as herons, kingfishers, spoonbills and ospreys between the scattered native huts as you travel steadily away from civilization. Upon arrival to Sacha Lodge's private reserve, take your first walk along a raised boardwalk through dense flooded palm forest where several species of monkeys are often sighted. The path leads to Pilchicocha lake, a blackwater paradise where dugout canoes await to carry you across the lake to the lodge.

History

Sacha Lodge's story begins in the 1970s when a Swiss citizen founder called "Benny" came to Ecuador in search of adventure. He was captivated by the Napo River, and in 1985, Benny opened his first tourist lodge, La Casa del Suizo, on the Upper Napo River.

Soon, civilization approached, and to satisfy his appetite for wilderness, Benny looked deeper into the Ecuadorian forest. Months later, he found a stretch of forest some two hours away from Coca.

Benny immediately fell in love with the mysterious black water of Pilchicocha Lake and purchased 500 hectares of land surrounding it. With the help of 170 local employees, Sacha Lodge was officially opened in 1992.

Facilities

Lodging at Sacha combines the highest comfort to the traveller with the preservation of the environment and rainforest ambience. All of the 26 cabins, with high thatched roofs and private shaded terraces are constructed with traditional materials and nestle subtly into the lush surroundings. Each of the cabins has two comfortable double beds, a private bathroom with flushing toilet and hot shower, insect screens, electrical outlets, ceiling fans and hammocks overlooking the jungle where you may see fauna such as toucans, agoutis and monkeys right outside the cabin. Internet connections are available in the open areas of the lodge (additional cost).

The lodge has 2 restaurant / bars -

La Balsa - a covered al fresco lounge area with a breath taking view over the shimmering Pilchicocha Lake. As well as swerving a buffet breakfast and lunch, it is the perfect place to read a book with a glass of wine, spot birds, caiman and giant otters, or to watch the crimson sunsets and tremendous thunder storms.

Oropendola - a rustic, airy restaurant where an a la carte dinner is served, bringing fine dining to the jungle. Using fresh and sustainable products, the lodge's chef prepares meals to delight the tastes of a world traveler while satisfying the appetite of an adventurer!

Activities

Days during your stay at Sacha Lodge are filled with discovery. Activities are spread out over a wide area and allow visitors to explore several distinct but equally fascinating habitats. Several trails lead through pristine terra firme forest, where 150 foot kapok trees tower above and roots form huge buttresses to give trees support. Others follow strategically raised boardwalks in seasonally flooded forests, where walking on the ground would be nearly impossible during most of the year due to groundwater.

A favorite activity is to paddle dugout canoes along tannin-rich black-water creeks and lakes, where luxuriant lianas, orchids, bromeliads and palm trees thrive. And wherever an outing may lead the possibilities of spotting animals, from the tiny pygmy marmoset to the feared ocelot or puma, are endless. Swimming and piranha fishing are also popular and, for the adventurous visitor, there are night walks and canoe trips in search of caimans and other nocturnal creatures. Note: Swimming in Pilchicocha Lake is at your own risk and is only allowed in the enclosed, netted pool off the restaurant dock and, from a safety perspective, NOT in open lake water outside of this enclosed, netted pool. Please observe and follow Sacha Lodge warnings if you wish to swim in this enclosed area.

A typical day at Sacha...

A typical day at Sacha begins at sunrise or earlier, in order to take advantage of the cool morning hours when the rainforest's animals are most active. In the afternoon, visits begin at around 3:00 and often continue into the evening, when the nocturnal insect and frog chorus begins.

Sacha Lodge's guests are divided into small groups for activities, each of which are led by not one but two guides. One is a native guide, raised in the area and with expert knowledge of the rainforest's medicinal and other useful plants. This guide will often share stories from local culture, and lead the way with accustomed eyes that are incredible for spotting the jungle's hidden creatures. The second guide to accompany each group is a bilingual naturalist, who has been educated in the biology and ecology of the rainforest and who will translate for the native guides as well as share their own scientific knowledge about any plants and animals you may encounter.

A typical day is as follows -

-  5:30 am – 6 am | Early wake up
-  6 am - 6:30 am | Breakfast buffet at "La Balsa" restaurant
-  6:30 am – 7 am | Depart for morning excursion.
-  10:30 am - 11:30 am | Return to the lodge for a snack. You can visit our Butterfly House, get refreshed at our Lake Pool or go Piranha catch & release fishing.
-  1 pm – 2 pm | Lunch buffet at our lakeside "La Balsa" restaurant.
-  2 pm – 3:30 pm | During your free time, visit our Butterfly House, get refreshed at our Lake Pool or go for Piranha catch & release fishing.
-  3:30 pm – 4 pm | Depart for the afternoon excursion.
-  6 – 6:30 pm | Return to the lodge and plan your next day tours with your guide at "Oropendola" Bar.
-  7 – 8:30 pm | A la carte gourmet dinner.
-  8:15 pm – 8:30 pm | Depart for the night excursion.
-  Recharging night's sleep.

Sacha Lodge offers a number of very unique sites to its visitors. A 130-foot observation tower and a 940-foot canopy walkway both give visitors a chance to get above the rainforest canopy for incredible views of the area. There is also the recently added canopy crane where guests may ride 45 meters above the ground to explore the rainforest canopy in an elevator-like metal basket suspended from a boom. Our guides, via remote control, will move throughout 2 acres of forest to find and drop in on birds and monkeys from above as they go about their daily business. All of these special facilities offer a perfect way to observe toucans and macaws and, with luck, spot noisy howler monkeys or a three-toed sloth.

Another site is the butterfly house where over 40 local butterfly species are bred. Visitors can see the process of breeding and raising these colorful insects and wander through the "flying room." Finally, there's the Yasuni Parrot Lick. Just a short distance from Sacha Lodge is Ecuador's most famous parrot lick, where visitors can observe dozens of the magnificently colored birds feeding on the clay.

Moderate physical condition is required to participate in several of the lodge's activities – however, according to your interests and physical condition (but not your age!), different activity levels are offered which depend mainly on the distance and time you would like to spend on the rainforest trails; all other activities can be included in any program..... and there is always the option of taking some time to just relax in your hammock and experience the sights and sounds of the Amazon...

Travel insurance information... Coverage available through Manulife Insurance

We strongly recommend that you take out travel insurance to protect you against the unexpected due to, in particular, limited provincial health care coverage afforded to Canadians while traveling overseas and the cancellation provisions inherent in your booking. We offer the following insurance coverage options through Manulife Insurance, one of Canada's leading insurance providers –

NON-MEDICAL INCLUSIVE PLAN

There are significant inherent cancellation penalties associated with your booking as detailed in our booking terms and conditions and this insurance package provides coverage for cancellation penalties if you should have to cancel due to medical, or other listed, reasons either relating to yourself or a member of your immediate family. It also covers you for trip interruption costs short notice return flight home etc) for medical reasons again, either relating to yourself or an immediate family member as well as flight and travel accident and baggage insurance.

ALL INCLUSIVE PLAN

This plan provides coverage for all the components in the Non-medical Inclusive plan, plus health coverage while in the destination

"Cancel for any reason (CFAR)" coverage - NEW and at no additional cost !!

So long as you purchase either of the two insurance policies above at the same time as your tour booking, you are automatically entitled to this added benefit of CFAR coverage whereby, if you need to cancel your tour booking up to 14 days or more before departure for any reason, your policy will refund you up to a maximum of 50% of the cancellation penalties incurred. This is excellent peace of mind coverage to protect you against (50% of the) cancellation penalties incurred in a situation where the reason for cancellation is not one of the regular covered risks in your policy (ie it is essentially "change of mind" insurance).

PREMIUM PROTECTION PLAN ("PPP")

As a third option, Manulife is now also offering a new enhanced travel insurance policy, their Premium Protection Plan ("PPP"). This is Manulife's most comprehensive coverage, providing all the same types of coverage as the All-Inclusive plan (above) but with higher covered amounts in most areas. It is also a simplified policy in so much that, whereas the All-Inclusive plan and Non-medical Inclusive plan (above, and as is the case with most insurance company travel policies) have a list of specific covered events, the PPP offers cancellation coverage for any unexpected and unforeseen event (ie., any event, situation or circumstance that is beyond your control that prevents you from travelling) with only a few exclusions that apply.

An overview of the PPP may be found by clicking here

A comparison of the enhanced benefits provided by the PPP compared to Manulife's regular All Inclusive plan may be found by clicking here

A major benefit of the PPP is that coverage for reimbursement of inherent cancellation penalties under the Cancel For Any Reason (CFAR)" coverage is increased to 80% of the cancellation penalties incurred for all cancellation up to 7 days or more before departure.

Please note, the PPP is only available to clients under the age of 75 (at the date of purchase of the insurance coverage) and must be purchased at the same time as the travel tour booking is made (72 hour grace period).

A detailed overview of coverage benefits and limitations of each insurance policy that we offer through Manulife may be found at -

Coverage not available if age 75 or over at the date of purchasing insurance

For residents of Ontario, simply accept your choice of insurance (Non-medical Inclusive, All-Inclusive or Premium Protection coverage) on our online registration form and we will apply the premium above on your invoice confirmation (if using our pdf registration form, enter the applicable premium from the above table when completing the registration form)

For residents of Canadian provinces other than Ontario, insurance regulations state that travel insurance should be taken out directly with Manulife Insurance, albeit through a direct web link hosted on our web site, ie you should purchase your travel insurance policy by simply following the link below to take advantage of our preferred rates with Manulife) via our company's exclusive Manulife link:

<https://www.igoinsured.com/Direct/ManulifeGlobal.aspx?ag=ONTOTPR&lang=E>

Non-Canadian residents

For residents of countries outside of Canada (including the USA), insurance regulations allow us to sell "Trip Cancellation" insurance (this policy includes both trip cancellation and trip interruption coverage but not medical coverage). Hence it is not possible for non-Canadian residents to purchase either the All Inclusive or Premium Protection plans from Manulife. We do find that many of our overseas clients already have medical insurance through other channels and therefore, if this is the case, you may purchase "Trip Cancellation" coverage by following the link below to purchase the "Trip Cancellation" insurance policy (taking advantage of our preferred rates with Manulife) via our company's exclusive Manulife link:

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Travel insurance that may be available through your credit card

When considering any of the travel insurance policies above, if you believe you may have coverage through your credit card we would strongly advise checking with the credit card company the actual coverage afforded to ensure it covers medical, trip cancellation and trip interruption as not all of these items are covered (or may only offer limited coverage as to trip duration or insured $amount in the event of a claim - sometimes as low as only $1,000 per person) by all kinds of cards. Also, most coverage through credit card benefits does not include Cancel For Any Reason (CFAR) coverage.

Dr. Kerri McGuire, Ottawa - Kenya & Tanzania, 2013

"I wanted to let you know that the trip to East Africa was excellent. The safari was well organized from beginning to end and John, our knowledgeable guide, unfailingly and graciously coped with all the challenges of the adventure. This was my third trip to Tanzania in the past 2 years and I came away feeling that I had finally seen the positive side to this beautiful country. We were fortunate to see far more animals than we had anticipated and the drivers took time to let us watch various scenarios play out rather than simply snapping a picture and moving quickly on. Having compared this safari to reports from others and to my previous one to the Ngorongoro Crater last year, I can honestly say that this was superior in every way. I definitely would recommend it to interested others.

"We really enjoyed traveling with an interesting group of professionals which gave us the opportunity to visit places where the public normally does not have easy entry. Excellent pre-departure information and the tour was well-balanced with a mixture of historic and social highlights, while travelling through very different landscapes and areas of the country. The public/private health care system was well described on the Groote Schuur Hospital tour and the children's song and dance performance at SOS children's village in Cape Town was touching. Our local tour guide was outstanding [5+++] and provided excellent context for the political, economic and social aspects of SA. He was calm, professional, responded quickly to everyone's needs and was very proud of his country".

And finally, this is an article written by one of our Group Medical Directors, and published in Doctor's Review, who hosted our November 2009 program to Ecuador ...

ECUADOR (including the Galapagos, Amazon & Quito)

An article by Dr. Rachel Kassner– Group Medical Director, Doctors-on-Tour - November 2009

A physician fines a wonderful way to combine education and travel

My husband, our 12 year old son and I just returned from what I can only describe as a trip of a lifetime. We were on an exceptional tour with several other physicians organized by doctors-on-tour, a Toronto based company specializing in offering a combination of vacation and (professional advancement) education to exotic worldwide locations. We spent almost 2 weeks visiting Ecuador, the Galapagos and the Amazon rainforest.

It's difficult to choose what was the most spectacular part of the trip but we loved Ecuador. After a couple of nights in Quito, we flew on to the Galapagos Islands. The Galapagos, made famous by Darwin, are part of Ecuador and are situated in the Pacific Ocean over 900 km. west of the mainland. We were met at the airport by the crew of the Galapagos Explorer II, a 100 passenger ship that sails among the various islands. We spent 4 nights aboard the ship. All the wildlife in the Galapagos is heavily protected and access is strictly controlled. The ship has its own Galapagos born and trained guides who are walking encyclopedias on the geological history of the Islands and the wildlife endemic to each. Twice a day we would board zodiacs from the ship and head out for about 3 hours to visit a particular island. The guides made sure that we didn't miss a thing: land and sea iguanas; Sally Lightfoot crabs; the incredible frigate bird with his red gullet puffed out like a balloon to attract a mate; blue footed boobies; sea lions in abundance; enormous land tortoises; penguins; flightless cormorants; other birds in large numbers and varieties; and more and more species too numerous to mention. We also had a number of snorkeling opportunities, and there's no bigger thrill than swimming with the sea lions as they frolic around you.

And then back to Quito. Quito is a wonderful city, with a rich history. We also had an opportunity to journey north to Otavalo. What a treat! We visited towns that each specialized in only one craft: leather; weaving; mazapan (ornaments made out of dough and then glazed in captivating designs and colours – our son brought back a spectacular chess set whose pieces depict the wildlife of the Galapagos). We visited a 3rd generation family of musicians and makers of all types of pan flutes. They demonstrated how they make a simple pan flute, the sounds of each of the different instruments, and then put on a performance for us. We were captivated. We visited the Otavalo craft market which was an absolute kaleidoscope of colours. The wares are a bargain by North American standards and of course we always wished that we had bought more. The people are friendly and their clothing is so picturesque. An enchanting hacienda provided us with a refreshing overnight stay. None of us wanted to leave. Our guide Carlos was wonderful; he showed us his country and left us with a real understanding and appreciation for Ecuador and its people.

As incredible as all of this was, I think that our family felt that if we had to choose the most unique and spectacular part of the trip, it was the 4 days we spent in the Amazon rain forest.

Amidst all of this travel and moving from locale to locale, there was still time for a CME component. There were presentations on various topics from members of our group; a discussion on Ecuadorian health care by a local physician in Quito; visits to both public and private hospitals; a presentation by a biologist in the Galapagos; a visit to the ship's infirmary, and a hands-on introduction to natural and herbal medicines by our guide in the rainforest. There was also a local shaman who performed a cleansing ritual on one of our group that left us all agape!

This was a fabulous way to visit exotic places and still get first hand knowledge and understanding of health care as it exists other than in our North American environment.

Dr. Rachel Kassner is a family physician in Charlottetown, PEI and travels extensively. She is formerly the Head of the Department of Family Medicine at the Queen Elizabeth Hospital in Charlottetown and is also the President of the Medical Society of Prince Edward Island as well as being a physician liaison on the project to implement unified electronic health records Province-wide.

The fine print...

Inc. and together, for the purposes of these Terms & Conditions, being referred to collectively as DOT/OT/BIC) accepts reservations for participation on a tour. Our liabilities are limited. When you make a payment of deposit and/or final payment, it is also an acknowledgement of receipt and acceptance of these Terms and Conditions.

All services are strictly on a request basis, both for air travel and land requirements and subject to availability of seats and hotel/lodge/camp rooms and cruise cabins. A guaranteed non-refundable deposit of $1,000 per person, together with the applicable travel insurance premium, is required with your reservation request. Certain non-standard arrangements may require higher deposit and the same will be advised to you at the time of booking. Please be aware that some airfares (outside of our group air blocks) require full payment at time of booking and will be advised to you accordingly at the time of your booking confirmation.

2. FINAL AND/OR BALANCE DUE PAYMENT: Guaranteed payment of all balances due is no later than 95 days (105 days for programs which include a cruise component, 110 days for Sri Lanka programs and 125 days for Morocco programs) prior to departure date. If payment of the balance due is not received by the stipulated date, we reserve the right to cancel your reservation without refund of deposit.

3. CREDIT CARD PAYMENTS: Visa & MasterCard credit cards are accepted as form of payment. We do accept any other kinds of cards, including either American Express or Diners Club. Your online authorization by way of our Online Registration Form acts as your approval for the credit card provided as part of your registration to be charged for both the initial deposit (and travel insurance premium, where applicable) as well as the future balance payments on the date they become due, together with any other charges due relating to the booking that have been requested by you in writing (including by current or future electronic mail communication). For registrations that are not received via our Online Registration Form, but instead are forwarded to DOT/OT/BIC by mailing, faxing or e-mailing a scanned completed copy of our (non-online) Registration Form, your signature on such (non-online) Registration Form verifies your approval for your credit card to be charged. 4. CANCELLATIONS & CHANGES: The deposit amounts (for both the main tour and any optional extensions reserved), as well as any travel insurance premiums paid, are 100% non-refundable and non-transferable. If payments are not received by their due dates, we reserve the right to cancel the booking without further notice. Bookings are non-transferable. There will be no refund for unused land arrangements after departure from North America. In the event of the cancellation by DOT/OT/BIC of any or all components of the travel services offered herein, DOT/OT/BIC will offer either a refund, or future travel credit, depending on the situation with our supplier partners subject to any specific penalties relating to airline seats that would be out of our control and would obviously be dependent upon the air ticket conditions as well as any cancellation penalties that may be charged by third party suppliers of services at the destination. Irrespective of whether a tour booking is cancelled by the client or if any or all components of the travel services are cancelled by DOT/OT/BIC, airfares may be subject to different rules and cancellation fees including some airfares may be fully non-refundable once the booking is confirmed regardless of when it was made including upgraded air cabin classes (ie premium economy, business and first class cabins) which are subject to different rules and cancellation fees based on the individual fare class in which the seats are purchased.

5. TRAVEL INSURANCE: To protect against cancellation charges, we strongly recommend purchasing Cancellation Protection and Travel Interruption Insurance. In the event of illness, medical and hospital expenses are the traveler's responsibility and no refunds will be made, partial or total, for the purchased tour. We strongly urge that you purchase either the Non-Medical Inclusive insurance (ie Cancellation Protection and Travel Interruption Insurance), All Inclusive insurance (Non-Medical coverage plus health coverage), or the Premium Protection Plan insurance package (All Inclusive coverage with higher coverage limits) offered by DOT/OT/BIC through Manulife Insurance. COVID-19 is currently viewed as a pre-existing situation by all insurance companies, including Manulife Insurance, and therefore is an exclusion under those policies that include health insurance, ie All Inclusive and Premium Protection Plan insurance packages. For coverage relating to COVID-19 health claims while on your tour, Manulife offers separate coverage, ie COVID-19 Pandemic Travel Insurance. Some countries may require proof of medical insurance, including specifically for COVID-19.

Our rating system reflects the majority of the accommodations throughout each program but some variety can occur. Ratings are based not only on room quality but also on facilities and location. Accommodation ratings in overseas destinations outside of Canada are an arbitrary measure and their definition from country to country can differ slightly as well as not always being consistent between individual properties in that particular destination nor are they necessarily comparable to an equivalent rating in North America. Rooms are assigned by the respective supplier(s) on a run-of-the-house basis, in category (ies) as specified in the itinerary and the right is reserved to substitute properties/hotels/lodges/camps/cruise/ships as conditions warrant such change for reasons beyond our control. Accommodations on twin occupancy basis, is provided at the properties/hotels/lodges/camps/cruise ships as specified or similar. Single room supplements apply to persons occupying sole use of a room/cabin but travelling with other passengers on the same tour and sharing transport cost on transfers, game drives, coach tours, sightseeing and excursions. Quoted single room rate does not necessarily mean single occupancy of a double room, as several of the establishments offered have especially designed single occupancy units.

10. SINGLE PASSENGERS TRAVELLING TOGETHER: If you are travelling with a companion and each paying separately the regular each of two double sharing accommodation rate and your companion decides to cancel, the remaining travelling passenger will be responsible for either finding a replacement travelling companion to take the cancelled passenger's place or must pay the single supplement and travel on a single basis.

Maximum Age: We have no upper age limit for our tours though we inform you that our tours ~~may include some~~ components which require group members to have a moderate level of physical condition in order to be able to participate.

You are responsible for assessing whether a tour is suitable for you. It is your responsibility to assess the risks and requirements of each aspect of the tour based on your own unique circumstances, limitations, fitness level and medical requirements.

DOT/OT/BIC reserves the right to deny you permission to travel or participate in any aspect of a tour at any time and at your own risk and expense where DOT/OT/BIC determines that your physical or mental condition renders you unfit for travel or you represent a danger to yourself or others. Travel with DOT/OT/BIC may involve visiting remote or developing regions, where medical care may not be easily accessible and medical facilities may not meet the standards of those found in your home country. The condition of medical facilities in the countries you may visit on your tour varies and DOT/OT/BIC make no representations and give no warranties in relation to the availability or standard of medical facilities in those regions.

We will provide details on mandatory and recommended health requirements with respect to vaccinations and other forms of medical protection relevant to the particular destination that you are travelling to but it is your responsibility to ensure that you obtain proper and detailed medical advice at least 6 weeks prior to travel for the latest health requirements and recommendations for your destination and how they impact your own personal health situation.

12. MEALS & BEVERAGES: Meals as included on our itineraries are either buffet meals and/or table d'hôte. No refunds can be provided for cancellation of any tour by the client while in the destination.

14. SPECIAL REQUESTS: While we will make every effort to accommodate special requests, eg., room/cabin locations, adjoining rooms, non-smoking rooms, bed preferences, special dietary meal requests, these cannot be guaranteed and DOT/OT/BIC cannot be held responsible if such requests cannot be fulfilled. Requests for upgrading rooms/cabins are subject to additional charges. Any deviations to the standard program arrival and departure flight dates should be notified to us by separate e-mail at the time of booking and are subject to availability and also any applicable flight class supplement.

15. SEATING ASSIGNMENT ON FLIGHTS: Our air arrangements are made via group contracts with the airlines and are therefore subject to more restrictive airline Terms & Conditions and policies than for seats purchased individually from airline web sites. If you have a particular seat request, we will do our best to fulfill it subject to the policies of the airlines. Certain airlines assign group seating automatically for which the specific location within the group block is out of our control and to which the airlines do not provide access for us to change specific seat locations; and several airlines do not allow for specific advance seat assignment at all in which case specific seats will be assigned at airport check-in.

16. DOCUMENT DELIVERY: Your travel documents will be sent to you approximately 3 weeks prior to departure.
