The Destinations... Rajasthan and The Golden Triangle

India - where will you find a more colourful land? The sights and sounds will excite you; the palaces, forts and old walled cities will thrill you; the varied and exotic scenery will captivate you and the warm and smiling people will charm you. Many images, but few are more powerful than the heritage of the Moghul Empire in Rajasthan where much of our tour is based – a legendary land defined by the patchwork of kingdoms and principalities that were, till independence, ruled by maharajas, rajas, ranas and rawals. From the cackle of it's colour charged towns and cities to the luminous splendour of it's sun-kissed desert and it's forts and palaces (several of which have been converted into splendid Heritage hotels and our accommodation will include some of these), Rajasthan is romantic and historic India wrapped in gaudy royal robes where bards still roam the countryside, picking out complex tunes on single-stringed instruments, and sing of heroic battles, chivalry and sacrifices.

You will see Delhi, the political and cultural capital and a captivating combination of ancient and modern in contrasting Old and New Delhi. Museums, monuments to the myriad of dynasties that have established their capital in Delhi over the centuries, great shopping and wonderful restaurants.

Travelling west, first travel to Jodhpur, originally capital of the kingdom of Marwar and bordering the Thar Desert, with it's Meherangarh Fort dominating the once indominatable Blue City below, where you can bargain for a pair of boxed cuff trousers (the original jodhpurs...) and historic regalia. Heading south, we stop in Ranakpur (one of the holiest places in the Jain faith) to marvel at its dazzling 15th century temple complex made of milk white marble, before coming to Udaipur, the Venice of the East, a seductive, gated Rajput city situated romantically on the banks of Lake Pichola with it's floating Lake Palace and palaces and temples at every turn.

No tour of India is complete without visiting the "Golden Triangle" and its famed cities of Jaipur and Agra. Jaipur, the "City of Victory", is the vibrant capital of Rajasthan with its magnificent palaces and temple, exquisite gardens and bustling bazaars, and the impressive pink Amber Fort. Then, on the way to Agra and the Taj Mahal, stop in Fatehpur Sikri – a masterpiece of Muslim architecture and unique as an almost intact Mughal city. Satisfied and marveling at the snapshot of so much of India's medieval and religious cultures.

The mystical Himalayan Kingdom of Bhutan (Thimphu, Punakha & Paro)

Gracefully hidden in the Himalayas is the tiny Kingdom of Bhutan, sharing its borders with China and India. Preserving its unique tradition, culture and pristine environment for decades, Bhutan derives its name from Sanskrit word 'Bhu-utthan' meaning Highlands, and can rightfully be called the last Shangri-la in the Himalayan Kingdom because of its remoteness, spectacular mountain terrain, varied flora and fauna and its unique ancient Buddhist monasteries.

This country of rolling hills and towering crags exudes charm. The mountains are magnificent, the forest are dense, the people are delightful, the air is pure, the architecture inspiring, the religion exciting and the art superb. Like timeless images from the past, one encounters the full glory of this ancient land through its strategic fortresses known as Dzong, numerous ancient temples, monasteries and stupas which dot the countryside, prayer flags which flutter along the high ridges, wild animals which abound in dense forests, foamy white waterfalls which are the ethereal showers, and the warm smile of its friendly people.

For centuries the Bhutanese have treasured the natural environment, looking upon it as a source of life. This traditional reverence for nature has brought Bhutan into the 21st century with a pristine environment. Bhutan is one of the ten bio-diversity hot spots in the world and one of the 221 global endemic bird areas. Its ecosystem harbors some of the most exotic species of the eastern Himalayas with an estimated 770 species of birds and 50 species of rhododendrons, besides an astonishing variety of medicinal plants and orchids.

Buddhism permeates Bhutan as can be seen through its monasteries, ubiquitous monks and the Tibetan-style culture. With a relatively small population of about 700,000 people, the Bhutanese people enjoy a simple lifestyle which they inherited from their forefathers. More than 80% of the total population lives in small villages sparsely scattered over rugged mountainous terrain and Bhutan has been rated the happiest country in South Asia - the current King continues to drive this unique philosophy of Gross National Happiness where development is measured using a holistic approach of well-being, not just based on gross domestic product.

Tourism is controlled by the Royal Government of Bhutan that recognizes that tourism is an important means of achieving socioeconomic development as well as helping to promote understanding among different cultures and lifestyles. Towards achieving this objective, the Royal Government, since the inception of tourism in 1974, has adopted a very cautious approach to growth and development of the tourism based on principle of sustainability that is 'tourism must be environmentally and ecologically friendly, socially and culturally acceptable and economically viable'.

Our tour will take you to Thimphu, the capital of Bhutan with its many cultural attractions and important Buddhist highlights and interspersed with bustling markets and museums specializing in textiles, folk heritage, and traditional Bhutanese arts and crafts. Then, drive through the mountains, passing the 108 stupas of Dochu La, to Punakha, the ancient winter capital located in a sub-tropical valley where rhododendron and magnolia bloom and orange and banana trees flourish. Conclude your stay in this captivating hidden kingdom in Paro, a resort town nestled among the Himalayas and the site of the 15C Paro Dzong, National Museum and the perfect base for a hike to Tiger's Nest, a breathtaking monastery clinging to a cliff that is one of the most important icons of Bhutan.

Depart Toronto for your flight to Delhi, India.

Specific flight times / routing will be forwarded upon registration.

Day 2 - Nov 20 : Arrive Delhi

Arrive Delhi by International flight where you will be met by your local Indian Tour Escort who will be with you for the duration of the India component of your tour. During the transfer to your hotel, your Tour Escort will give you some brief information about your hotel, its surrounding and about Delhi as well as explaining your program in the city for the following days.

Overnight in Delhi.

Day 3 - Nov 21 : Delhi (B, L, D)

A city of great character, of contrasts and convolutions – this is Delhi, the capital city of India, is a world within itself. With its kaleidoscope of scents, sounds, and sights, Delhi never fails to captivate. From its rich history, dating back over 2,000 years, and architectural marvels to its delectable cuisine and vibrant nightlife, the city offers an unforgettable experience.

One of the world's oldest continuously inhabited cities, Delhi's roots date back to the era of the ancient Mahabharata, when the city was known as Indraprastha, the legendary home of the Pandavas. Since then, the city has seen empires rise and fall, from the Delhi Sultanate and the Mughals, who left behind architectural marvels, to the British, who shaped parts of it.

While Delhi is a melting pot of varied cultures, what sets it apart is its diverse character. Here, you can experience the best of both worlds - the timeless elegance of a bygone era alongside the exhilarating energy of a modern megacity. On the one hand, you'll find the vibrant chaos of narrow lanes, centuries-old monuments, and old-world charm. On the other, the city offers vast green spaces, modern buildings, swanky malls, and colonial-era architecture.

Breakfast at the hotel. After some free time in the morning to acclimatize from your international flight, the rest of the day will be spent on a sightseeing tour of New Delhi.

The New Delhi area reflects the legacy the British left behind. The division between New and Old Delhi is the division between the capitals of the British and the Mughals respectively. The division in the walled city and New Delhi also marks the division in the life-styles. The walled city is all tradition where one will be able to glean a past life-style in all its facets, colors and spells. New Delhi in contrast, is a city trying to live up to the best of 21st century standards.

Drive past the imposing India Gate, the Parliament and Secretariat Buildings and the Rastrapathi Bhawan, the President's Residence. Continue to visit the Qutub Minar, which is the tallest stone tower in India. The Qutub Minar was started in 1199 AD by Qutub-ud-Din Aibak and completed by the sultan's successor and son-in-law, Iltutmish. The building is 72.5 m high and has 379 steps from the bottom to the top. The Minar is tapering with the diameter of the base is 14.3 m while at the top floor it is 2.7 m. The Qutub Minar is still the highest stone tower as well as one of the finest Islamic structures ever raised in India.

Lunch, and your Welcome Dinner, will be taken at one of many of Delhi's fine restaurants.

Overnight in Delhi.

Day 4 - Nov 22 : Delhi (B, L, D)

Breakfast at the hotel.

Physicians program – Visit to Maharishi Ayurveda Hospital to learn about holistic healing practiced by this specialist hospital including Ayurveda, therapeutic yoga and herbal medicine. Ayurveda provides an integrated approach to preventing and treating illness through lifestyle interventions and natural therapies and is based on herbal remedies to treat various human ailments against major human diseases. These remedies are available in the form of injectables, ointments, oils, tablets and liquids to be used orally. The healing technique also involves various naturopathic treatments

Non-physicians – will enjoy a separate activity in old Delhi including a visit to an Indian family to have morning tea and interact with the family members – a longstanding tradition in India.

Lunch will be provided at a local restaurant before an afternoon tour of Old Delhi. The former centre of Moghul Power, Old Delhi offers ancient monuments, narrow streets and bustling bazaars. Sights include the vast Red Fort, built in 1648, and the Jama Masjid, the greatest mosque in India and completed in 1658 by Shah Jahan who also built the Taj Mahal. Visit "Chandni Chowk" or Silver Street, experiencing the sights and sounds of this very busy avenue heading west from the Fort. Chandni Chowk - literally means "moonlit crossroads" and an area which best represents the "super-Oriental" - the glory and the guile; the grandeur and the grime, with its crowded bazaars, twisting lanes, maze of small streets strange aromas, the pungent odour of Oriental spices, the cries of shopkeepers, coolies and "rickshaw-walas" and the clatter and whirr of furious industry. Take a cycle rickshaw ride – the ultimate way to experience a journey through the streets and alleys of bustling streets of Old Delhi.

You will also visit, Raj Ghat, the simple memorial to Mahatma Gandhi. The memorial is a black marble platform that marks the spot of Gandhi's cremation on 31 January 1948. It is left open to the sky while an eternal flame burns perpetually at one end. It is located on the banks of the river Yamuna in Delhi in India on one of the main arteries of the city - officially known as Mahatma Gandhi Road.

Finish off the afternoon with a visit (via rickshaw through fascinating parts of Old Delhi) to the Kathika Cultural Centre, a one-of-a-kind museum and cultural space dedicated to celebrating and preserving the vibrant, living cultures of Delhi. The museum is housed within two, well restored 19th-century havelis, offering an intimate and atmospheric setting. The space hosts cultural experiences including performing arts, heritage talks (baithaks) and interactive cultural engagement.

Its collection includes archival photographs, decorative arts, textiles, and traditional crafts. Visitors gain insight into Delhi's layered history through multimedia exhibits, storytelling sessions, and live demonstrations. The experience is authentic, thoughtfully curated, and very different from conventional museum visits — making it particularly appealing to culturally curious travelers. <https://www.kathika.in/>

Dinner will be at the restaurant situated inside one Kathika's old havelis.

On arrival transfer to the hotel.

In the afternoon, visit the Mehrangarh Fort (citadel of the Sun) that evokes the very spirit of the Rathores, the ruling local Rajput clan. Explore its various palaces with their delicate friezes and respective museums, displaying treasures of the royal family. North of Mehrangarh Fort, and connected to it by road, Jaswant Thada is a pillared marble memorial to the popular ruler Jaswant Singh II (1878-95), who purged Jodhpur of dacoits, initiated irrigation systems and boosted the economy. The cenotaphs of members of the royal family who have died since Jaswant are close by his memorial; those who preceded him are remembered by chhatris at Mandor This south-facing spot is also the best place from which to photograph the fort, looming above the sheer rocky Mehrangarh plateau. Also visit the museum in the Umaid Bhawan Palace.

Dinner and overnight at the hotel in Jodhpur.

Day 6 - Nov 24 : Jodhpur (B, L, D)

An early morning start as you participate in a traditional yoga session and learn about four main paths of Yoga (Karma Yoga, Bhakti Yoga, Raja Yoga and Jnana Yoga) and the five principles for physical and mental health.

Yoga is an ancient holistic practice that originated in India and is designed to harmonize the body, mind, and spirit. Through a combination of physical postures (asanas), breathing techniques (pranayama), and meditation, yoga helps improve flexibility, strength, balance, and overall physical well-being. Yoga therapy can be beneficial in relieving several medical conditions including back pain, high blood pressure, migraines problem, menstrual disorders while also promoting mental clarity, reducing stress, enhancing concentration, and encouraging a sense of inner peace. Practicing yoga regularly can help travelers rejuvenate their bodies, relax their minds, and experience a deeper connection with themselves and their surroundings.

Yoga and Ayurvedic medicine are complimentary sister sciences and, generally, a person undergoing Ayurvedic treatments is advised to practice Yoga and Meditation since it helps isolate the mind from all thoughts, worries and anxieties. While Ayurveda deals chiefly with the health of the body and mind, Yoga deals with spiritual health.

Just 96 km from Udaipur, Ranakpur is renowned for its magnificent temples of dazzling white marble. The four-temple complex, far away from any town or village, is completely in harmony with the ascetic ideology of Jainism. The architectural highlight is Jain Temple with its sequence of elegant domes, turrets and cupolas that rise majestically from the hillside, supported by more than 1,400 marble pillars adorned with breathtakingly intricate carvings.*

Breakfast at the hotel.

After breakfast, depart for Udaipur by road and head south through classic Marwar country (historic desert heartland of western Rajasthan known for its Thar Desert landscapes, Rajput forts, camel culture, and the distinctive Marwari language and traditions) with its wide, open roads next to dry scrubland and mustard fields interspersed with camel carts, small temples, and rural settlements before climbing up into the Aravalli range, one of the world's oldest mountain systems where the air cools, and the vegetation becomes denser as you travel along curving forest roads.

Stop for a visit to the Jain Temples of Ranakpur, one of India's greatest architectural masterpieces, built entirely of white marble and famous for their 1,444 uniquely carved pillars displaying the magic of light and shade. The complex was built over 50 years in the 15th century by the Jain businessman, Seth Dharna who had a celestial vision to build a temple, dedicated to Adinath, the founder of the Jain religion. Set in a quiet forested valley of the Aravalli hills, the complex blends spiritual serenity with astonishing craftsmanship, making it one of the most celebrated Jain pilgrimage sites in Rajasthan.

Dinner at a local restaurant

Overnight at the hotel in Udaipur.

Day 8 - Nov 26 : Udaipur (B, L, D)

Often known as 'Venice of the East' and the 'City of Lakes', Udaipur is the most romantic of all the Rajasthan cities and one of the most exotic places in Asia. The city's palaces, havelis, temples set it apart from the rest of the cities. It is also popular for its crafts, performing arts and its famed miniature paintings. The Lake Palace (Jag Niwas) located in the middle of Pichola Lake is the finest example of architectural and cultural marvel. The grand City Palace on the banks of the lake along with the Monsoon Palace (Sajjan Garh) on the hill above enhances the beauty of this magnificent city. You can see the city from a boat or from the rooftop of palaces, the view is marvelous, it makes you forget the world. The smooth rolling hills that surround Udaipur are as overpowering as the city itself.

Maharana Udai Singh founded Udaipur in 1559 AD. According to a legend Udai Singh was guided by a holy man meditating on the hill near Pichola Lake to establish his capital on that very spot. Surrounded by Aravali Ranges, forests and lakes this place was less vulnerable to external invasion than Chittaurgarh. Maharana Udai Singh died in 1572 and was succeeded by Maharana Pratap who valiantly defended Udaipur from Mughal attacks.

<https://www.incredibleindia.gov.in/en/rajasthan/udaipur>

After breakfast you will proceed to visit the vast and exquisite City Palace, a well-fortified, majestic white monument. The main entrance, a triple-arched gate named the Tripolia, was built in 1725 and is a marvel. The Suraj Gokhada, the Balcony of the Sun, where the Suryavanshi Maharanas of Mewar presented themselves in times of trouble to the people to restore their confidence, is also a fascinating sight.

Later visit the Jagdish Temple, a 16th-century temple dedicated to Lord Vishnu, it is the largest and most splendid temple in Udaipur, as well as Sahelion-Ki-Bari (Queen's resort for her friends).

In the afternoon enjoy a cruise by private boat on the placid waters of Lake Pichola. The lake is surrounded by splendid hills, palaces, bathing ghats, temples and embankments - in the middle of the lake, stop and at Jagmandir Island with its Jag Mandir Palace, which covers almost four acres and is noted for its marble pavilion and an imposing dome. You'll see people doing their laundry on the shores of the lake against the backdrop of the massive City Palace and the old city.

Dinner and overnight at the hotel in Udaipur.

Day 9 - Nov 27 : Udaipur – Jaipur (B, L, D)

Breakfast at the hotel.

After breakfast leave for Jaipur, via Deogarh.

En route, visit the Sas Bahu Temple dating back to the 10th century. The term 'Sas-Bahu' suggests 'Mother-in-law and Daughter-in-law' respectively. The temple is dedicated to Lord Vishnu and it is made in two structures, one by a mother-in-law and another, by a daughter-in-law. The temple of Sas is comparatively larger than that of the Bahu. The 'Bahu' temple has an octagonal ceiling, which is adorned with beautifully carved eight intricate female figures. The 'Sas' temple has a torana (archway) in its front and it is believed that the image of the Lord Vishnu was swung from the torana along with hymns in the praise of lord on ceremonial occasions. Both the temples are constructed on a common platform facing towards the east direction and are famous for their wonderful carvings.

Continue to Deogarh where lunch will be at the Deogarh Magal, a beautiful Heritage property in the town.

Continue your drive to Jaipur through the rugged Aravalli hills into the wide plains of eastern Rajasthan, arriving late afternoon.

Dinner and overnight at the hotel in Jaipur.

Day 10 - Nov 28 : Jaipur (B, L, D)

Popularly known as the Pink City, Jaipur was founded in 1727 AD by one of the greatest rulers of the Kachhawaha clan, the astronomer king Sawai Jai Singh. The pink color was used at the time of making to create an impression of red sandstone buildings of Mughal cities - and repainted in 1876, during the visit of the Prince of Wales. Also known as the 'The city of victory', Jaipur presides over the fascinating desert state and its people: surrounded by rugged hills, each crowned by a formidable fort; and beautiful palaces, mansions and gardens dotted throughout its precincts. The palaces and forts of yesteryear that were witness to royal processions and splendour are now living monuments and except for the busy traffic of bicycles, cars and buses, little seems to have changed with a timeless quality to Jaipur's bazaars and its people.

<https://www.incredibleindia.gov.in/en/rajasthan/jaipur>

After breakfast at the hotel, you will be driven just outside Jaipur to the ancient capital of Amber to see the fabulous Amber Fort. Maharaja Mansingh, Mughal Emperor Akbar's most successful General, started the construction of Amber Fort in the 17th century. Before the City Palace was constructed in Jaipur, Amber was the seat of power. The fort is surrounded by fortified battlements and overlooks the Moat Lake. Ruins and remains are spread over the Aravalli hills and sprawling crenulated walls lattice the surrounding area. Visit the Jagmandir or the Hall of victory glittering with mirrors, Jai Mahal and Temple of Kali.

At the foot of the hill you will mount your caparisoned elephant for the slow but steady climb up to the main gate, making your entrance in the time honoured fashion. The Fort, completed in the early 18th century, took over 100 years to build and now, although deserted, offers a fascinating insight into the lifestyle of the Moghul ruling families.

Lunch at a local restaurant.

In the afternoon, continue the city tour of Jaipur, including the imposing Maharaja City Palace, a large palace complex and historically (and still currently) the seat of the Maharaja of Jaipur, although several of the rooms are now open to the public with many antiques and artifacts belonging to the ruling family housed here, including a collection of weaponry.

Adjacent, also visit the adjacent Hawa Mahal ("Palace of the Winds"), a five-story façade with 953 jharokha windows, built in 1799 and constructed as an extension to the women's chambers (Zenana) of the City Palace designed so the royal women could watch street life unseen.

And finally, if time permits, a visit to the Royal Observatory to see the vast astronomical instruments.

Finish off the day with an inspirational visit to Sakhi Bal Niketan and Amar Seva Samiti – learn about the work of this non-governmental organization and place of education for children of domestic workers, rickshaw pullers and other poor families.

The organization also runs evening classes for women who work for their livelihood during the day.

Non-physicians will have free time to continue exploring the city maybe taking in one of Jaipur's many shopping areas.

Mid-morning departure for Agra in the state of Uttar Pradesh. Few states embody India's essence like Uttar Pradesh, boasting profound cultural and religious significance for Hindus, Muslims, Sikhs and Buddhists alike, witnessing the rule of various empires and dynasties through antiquity.

Lunch, en-route, will be at the Umed Lake Palace before visiting the UNESCO site of Fatehpur Sikri, the deserted red sandstone city, built by the Great Mughal Emperor Akbar as his capital and palace in the late 16th century. It was abandoned soon after it was built when the local wells went dry and it remains today in much the same condition that it was over 300 years ago. It is complete with palaces and mosques and used to be a town larger than London when it was originally constructed. See the halls of Public and Private Audience, the royal apartments and the Panch Mahal and, in the religious section, the Jumma Masjid (one of India's largest mosques) and the exquisite tomb of Salim Chisti. It is an extraordinary place to wander around with its buildings in near perfect condition.

Continue the drive to Agra.

Dinner and overnight at the hotel in Agra.

Day 12 - Nov 30 : Agra – Delhi (B, L, D)

Agra in terms of ambiance is still associated with its Mughal period. The Mughals besides being great rulers were also great builders and they preserved their best architectural wonders for Agra & its neighbourhood. It has many wonderful monuments and the Taj Mahal, the greatest of them all, is a masterpiece of Mughal architecture at its best. The massive but elegant Agra Fort, the magnificent Taj, are each unique and outstanding. Their architectural genius can also be seen in the forts, palaces and aesthetically laid out gardens - each one a silent witness to a grand style of a golden era. Great empires have flourished in Agra and then grown to engulf the whole country. Great battles were fought on this soil, as can be gathered from its checkered history. Its line-up of monuments today stand mute testimony to the splendour of a bygone era and the visionary far-sightedness of the many monarchs who once ruled different parts of this state. As visitors walk down the narrow, bustling streets, they can't help but wonder if the man contentedly smoking a hookah is a direct descendant of some bygone Mughal. Even the majority of the buildings in the modern areas of town such as the cantonment, date back over a hundred years.

Before breakfast you will taken on a sunrise tour of the iconic Taj Mahal, one of Agra's three UNESCO World Heritage sites and the main raison-de-etre for every tourist's visit to Agra.

Imagine a monument so exquisite, it has inspired poets, artists, and dreamers for centuries. A place where love and beauty are forever enshrined in marble, standing as a testament to the heights of human creativity and devotion. The Taj Mahal was built by the third Mughal emperor of India, Shah Jahan a white marble memorial to his beloved wife Mumtaz Mahal, who died during childbirth. Although it is not known for sure who planned the Taj Mahal, the name of an Indian architect of Persian descent, Ustad Ahmad Lahori, has been cited in many sources. As soon as construction began in 1632, masons, craftsmen, sculptors, and calligraphers were summoned from Persia, the Ottoman Empire, and Europe to work on the masterpiece. It took 22 years of hard labour and 20,000 labourers to build the mausoleum. Apart from its stunning design balance and perfect symmetry, the Taj is also noted particularly for its elegant domes, intricately carved screens and some of the best inlay work ever seen.

Return to the hotel for breakfast.

After breakfast, visit the 16th-century Mughal monument known as the Red Fort of Agra – another UNESCO site and the seat and the stronghold of the Mughal Empire under successive generations. This was the seat of Mughal rule and administration and the present structure owes its origins to Akbar who erected the walls and gates and the first buildings on the eastern banks of Yamuna River. This powerful fortress of red sandstone encompasses, within its 2.5-km-long enclosure walls, the imperial city of the Mughal rulers. It comprises many fairy-tale palaces, such as the Jahangir Palace and the Khas Mahal, built by Shah Jahan; audience halls, such as the Diwan-i-Khas; and two very beautiful mosques.

Lunch will be at a local restaurant.

In the afternoon, visit Mother Teresa's Missionaries of Charity, a home for orphaned children of all age groups as well as the elderly, many of whom are mentally retarded. Witness the nuns' nurturing care for orphaned children and the elderly. The smiling children enjoy visitors; spend time chatting with them as they play and study. Nuns will happily provide you with a short tour of the premises and during your visit you may provide medical assistance to the old people & the children as well as interacting with the Sisters & Brothers who volunteer at the Mission and brief them about first aid treatment that can be helpful to them in an emergency situation.

Mother Teresa, known in the Catholic Church as Saint Teresa of Calcutta, was born in Skopje (now the capital of the Republic of Macedonia). After living in Macedonia for eighteen years she moved to Ireland and then to India, where she lived for most of her life. Mother Teresa received a number of honors, including the 1962 Ramon Magsaysay Peace Prize and 1979 Nobel Peace Prize. Mother Teresa instituted the Missionaries of Charity in India in 1950, and at the time of her death, it was operating 610 missions in 123 countries.

Physicians will visit the National Institute of Traditional Medicine (Indigenous Hospital).

One of the ancient names for Bhutan is Menjung, which means The Land of Medicinal Herbs, and its traditional medicine and rich pharmacopoeia dates back to 7th-century Tibet, as well as borrowing heavily from Indian Ayurvedic practices. Today, Bhutan, although modernized with time, still places an emphasis on traditional medicines and both Traditional and Allopathic methods of medicine are practiced and implemented in the kingdom without any sense of competition and discrimination. The Bhutanese people enjoy and have the right to attend to both types of medicinal treatments, which ever turns out to be most effective for his/her disease.

Established in 1978, this government facility researches, prepares and dispenses traditional herbal and other medicines. Drawing on the Kingdom's rich abundance of medicinal herbs, the Institute collects medicinal plants from remote corners of the Bhutanese Himalaya such as Lingzhi, Laya and Lunana, carefully prepares traditional Bhutanese medicines following age-old practices and then distributes pills, tablets, ointments and medicinal teas to regional health-care units around the country. The institute has a facility for outpatients, research and production / quality control of traditional medicines as well as conducting training programs for practitioners and students of traditional medicine.

When you enter the courtyard of the complex, you'll start to sense the aroma from the various herbs that are being dried, crushed, grounded and processed. Of particular interest is yartsa goenbub (Cordyceps Sinensis), the high-altitude cure-all 'Himalayan Viagra' that is actually a caterpillar that has been mummified by a fungus. The curious 'worm-root' sells for up to US$25,000 per kilogram in China. Lasgang root is said to do wonders for a sore throat. Their prescription for sinusitis is to known to work better than modern medicines, as far as locals are concerned.

You will have the opportunity to meet and interact with local doctors, gaining valuable insight into the philosophy and practice of traditional Bhutanese medicine. There is also a small museum detail at the facility.

<http://www.nitm.edu.bt/>

For non-physicians, visit Changangkha Lhakhang, the oldest surviving temple in Thimphu. It is a fortress like temple and monastic school perched on a ridge above Thimphu, south of Motithang. The temple was established in 12th century on a site chosen by the revered Lama Phajo Drugom Shigpo, who came from Tibet and is regarded as the founder of the Drukpa lineage in Bhutan. The central statue here is Chenrezig in a manifestation with 11 heads. For generations, parents have journeyed here to seek blessings for their newborns from the protector deity Tamdrin. Children are blessed with a phurba, a ritual dagger, and adorned with a sacred thread as part of this cherished tradition. From the temple courtyard, there is fascinating view of Thimphu valley.

Later, all participants will meet up again for a visit to the King's Memorial Chorten. Built in 1974 to honour the third king who wished to erect a monument to world peace and prosperity, it is a striking white structure crowned with a golden spire, situated near the heart of Thimphu, and ranks among the city's most iconic landmarks, offering an ideal opportunity to engage with locals who gather to circumambulate the chorten, spin the large red prayer wheels, and offer prayers at a small shrine within the gates (circumambulating the chorten once is considered to accumulate good merits and beneficial to all the sentient beings). This incredible structure is considered the most visible religious landmark of Bhutan.

A chorten in Bhutan is a Buddhist stupa—one of the country's most sacred and ubiquitous religious structures—built to symbolize the enlightened mind of the Buddha and to accumulate spiritual merit. A chorten is a receptacle for offerings, and in Bhutan, all chortens contain religious relics. Chortens are often situated in locations considered inauspicious – river junctions, crossroads, mountain passes, and bridges – to ward off evil. The classical chorten shape is based on the ancient Indian form of a stupa.

Each of the chorten's five architectural elements has a symbolic meaning. The square or rectangular base symbolizes the earth. The hemispherical dome symbolizes water. The conical or pyramidal spire symbolizes fire (the spire has 13 step-like segments that symbolize the 13 steps leading to Buddhahood). On top is a crescent moon and a sun, symbolizing air, and a vertical spike symbolizing ether or the sacred light of the Buddha. Inside is placed a carved wooden pole called a sokshing, which is the life-spirit of the chorten.

Finish off another memorable day take an exploratory walk around Thimphu main street and market area. Also visit the Local Crafts Bazaar, to browse through examples of Bhutan's fine traditional arts. From handwoven textiles and bamboo products to wooden carvings and handmade paper, it offers visitors an authentic glimpse into Bhutan's rich craft heritage—all in a relaxed, open-air setting.

Dinner and overnight at the hotel in Thimphu.

Day 16 - Dec 4 : Thimphu - Punakha (B, L, D)

Punakha served as the capital of Bhutan and seat of government until 1955 and it is still the winter seat of Je Khenpo (the chief abbot). Linked to some of the most momentous events in Bhutanese history, in 1651 Punakha was chosen to be the capital and two and half centuries later, in 1907, Punakha was, again the place where Bhutanese people elected the first king, Gongsar Ugyen Wangchuk. Blessed with a temperate climate and owing to its natural drainage from Pho Chhu (male) and Mo Chhu (female) rivers, the fertile Punakha valley produces abundant crops and fruits. Located at an elevation of 1300m above sea level, Punakha enjoys mild winters and is popular year round destination. There are splendid views of the distant Himalayas at Dochula pass (alt. 3,880m - see photo, left) on the Thimphu – Punakha road.*

Breakfast at hotel and then drive to Punakha across the Dochula pass (3,080m) which offers a mesmerizing panorama of the snow-capped peaks of the eastern Himalayas. When the skies are clear, the following peaks of the eastern Himalayas can be seen from this pass (left to right): Masagang (7,158m), Tsendagang (6,960m), Terigang (7,060m), Jejegangphugang (7,158m), Kangphugang (7,170m), Zongphugang (7,060m), a table mountain that dominates the isolated region of Lunana - finally Gangkar puensum, the highest peak in Bhutan at 7,497m.

At the summit of the Dochula Pass, stop to take in the view and admire the Druk Wangyal Chortens, mani wall, and prayer flags which decorate the highest point on the road. These 108 memorial chortens were commissioned by the eldest Queen Mother, Her Majesty Ashi Dorji Wangmo Wangchuck, to honor the Bhutanese soldiers who were killed in a military operation against Indian insurgents in 2003. The number 108 is a sacred number in Tibetan Buddhism, and the chortens were constructed in three different sizes, and in three separate layers representing the varying ranks of the soldiers. Each chorten is beautifully adorned and adds to the scenic beauty of the pass.

On arrival in Punakha, check into the hotel and have lunch.

In the afternoon, visit Chimi Lhakhang. This famous monastery is situated on a hillock in the centre of the valley, and is dedicated to Lama Drukpa Kuenley, who in the late 15th century used humour, songs and outrageous behaviour to dramatize his teachings and due to this also known as 'Divine Madman'. The temple within is also known as the temple of fertility as it is widely believed that for couples who do not have children, if they pray at this temple, they are usually blessed with a child very soon. Fittingly, therefore, it showcases the unique symbolism of phallus symbols in Bhutan, which are believed to ward off evil and promote prosperity.

To access the monastery, it is about 45 minute walk across the field from the road. The trail leads across rice fields to the tiny settlement of Pana, meaning 'field' and then follows a tiny stream downhill to Yoaka and across more fields before making a short climb to Chimi Lhakhang. Strolling through the village near the temple provides you with rare insights into the daily lives and lifestyles of the villagers. <https://www.chimilhakhang.com/>

For those who do not wish to go for this walking excursion, there is an alternate visit to Sangchen Dorji Lhuendrup Lhakhang : Perched on a ridge amid pine trees and overlooking valleys of Punakha and Wangdue gleams this temple housing a 14-foot main bronze statue of Avalokiteshvara and Tsepamay (Buddha of longevity). The temple complex also houses a permanent higher learning and meditation centre for nuns where, apart from religious training, it provides life skill training such as tailoring, embroidery, statue making and thangka painting.

Later, visit Punakha Dzong also known as the Palace of Great Happiness, built strategically at the junction of Pho Chhu and Mo Chhu rivers in 1637 by Shabdrung Ngawang Namgyal to serve as the religious and administrative centre of the region, Punakha Dzong has played an important role in Bhutan's history. Damaged by four catastrophic fires and an earthquake, the Dzong has been fully restored by the present King. The Dzong still serves as the winter residence of the monk body.

End the day with an exploratory walk around Punakha market and its small center - a typical Bhutanese town walkable, and relaxed, with everyday life on display and mountains visible from almost every angle.

Dinner and overnight at the hotel in Punakha (altitude 1,300m).

Day 17 - Dec 5 : Punakha - Paro (B, L, D)

The beautiful valley of Paro, in the western part of Bhutan, encapsulates within itself a rich culture, scenic beauty and hundreds of myths and legends. It is home to many of Bhutan's oldest temples and monasteries, National Museum and country's only airport. Mount. Chomolhari (7,314m) reigns in white glory at the northern end of the valley and its glacial water plunge through deep gorges to form Pa Chhu (Paro river). Paro is also one of the most fertile valley in the Kingdom producing a bulk of the locally famous red rice from its terraced fields.

<https://www.visitbhutan.com/destination-detail.php?id=1>

The town of Paro is a charming centre located in the Paro Valley. Sitting at an elevation of 2280m, on the bank of Pa Chhu River, this historic town is close to the Tibetan border, and was once a centre of two important trade routes to Tibet. Closeby, are two of Bhutan's most famous sites, Rinpung Dzong and Taktshang (meaning Tiger's Nest) Monastery. Along with other surrounding monasteries and fortresses, Paro Town, features a main street lined with colourful, traditional architecture with buildings comprised of small shops, institutions, and restaurants.

Filled with ancient customs, magnificent architecture, and elaborate scenery throughout, Paro is a quiet, spiritual place to enjoy nature, and a sense of peace and tranquility.

Breakfast at the hotel and then drive to Paro along the scenic highway through a stunning valley steeped in rich culture and surrounded by breathtaking natural beauty. To the north, Mount Chomolhari (7,314 meters) stands majestically in pristine white, while its glacial waters cascade through deep gorges to form the Paro River, known locally for its fertile terraced fields that yield the famous red rice.

On arrival in Paro, check into the hotel.

After lunch at the hotel, proceed to visit Rinpung Dzong (Paro Dzong), meaning ("fortress of the heap of jewels"), which has a long and fascinating history. It is a large monastery and fortress, constructed in 1646 and with its towering five stories, Rinpung Dzong was used as an effective defense against numerous invasion attempts by the Tibetans. Rebuilt after a fire in 1907, the Dzong now houses a sacred collection of masks and costumes, dating back centuries, as well as fine wall paintings illustrating Buddhist lore such as the four friends, the old man of long life, the wheel of life, scenes from the life of Milarepa, Mount. Sumeru and other cosmic Mandala.

Later in the afternoon, you will have the opportunity to visit a wellness centre to learn about the therapeutic benefits of the traditional Hot Stone Bath for which Bhutan is famous.

A form of traditional Bhutanese medicine, the alchemy behind Bhutan's hot stone baths draws on both Indian Ayurvedic practices and the traditional medicine of 7th-century Tibet. The hot stone bath is widely practiced in Bhutan and it is a ritual in itself as riverside rocks are heated till red hot and gradually dropped into a wooden tub filled with Menchu (water with medicinal properties infused with local herbs such as lemongrass, juniper, and native medicinal plants) and scattered with Artemisia leaves.

The burning rocks heats the water gradually and thus release minerals in to the water. The bath is deeply tied to Bhutanese wellness traditions — blending the practical benefits of heat therapy with centuries-old knowledge of herbal medicine and that is believed to cure skin ailments, joint pains, hypertension, stomach disorder, arthritis, and many other minor diseases. It also relieves muscle tension, improves circulation, and calms the mind. Traditionally these baths are done near a river bed with plenty supplies of stones and water and preferably after dark in the open air. However, more luxurious version of hot stone bath are also offered by different hotels and resorts.

For those not opting for a hot stone bath, take a stroll through Paro town and its local community market - the heart of Bhutanese daily life and culture offering a glimpse into the traditions, flavors, and crafts of Bhutan. From fresh organic produce and aromatic spices to handmade textiles and unique handicrafts, Paro Market is a must-visit for anyone wanting to experience the authentic lifestyle of Bhutanese people. It's not just a marketplace—it's a cultural hub where locals gather, share stories, and celebrate their heritage.

Dinner and overnight at hotel in Paro (altitude 2,280m).

Day 18 - Dec 6 : Paro (B, L, D)

Breakfast at hotel.

Today, depending on your physical condition, there are two different options until mid afternoon.

OPTION A

In the morning, hike to Dzongdrakha Goemba (moderate walking with an elevation gain of 210m to a height of 2,600m, 3 mile hike, approximate round trip walking time including visiting the site is 2 - 2 1/2 hours)

Local oral tradition states that when Guru Rinpoche first came to Bhutan, he came from Nepal, first landing at Drakarpo, and then Dzongdrakha before arriving at Taktshang (Tiger's Nest) farther north up the valley. Located approx 20 minute drive from Paro, these temples are built on a cliff above Bondey village. The Dzongdrakha village has numerous temples and is known for most of their men being either fully ordained monks or gomchens (lay monks who don't take vows of celibacy). Ironically it is the women who work in the fields and are the bread earners unlike in any other part of the country.

Often called a mini Takstang or Tigers Nest (see main panoramic photo above and optional activity trek below), Dzongdrakha is a cliff-side temple complex on the western side of the Paro Valley. Four shrines make up the complex, dedicated to Drolma (Tara), Tsheringma (Goddess of Longevity), Guru Rinpoche and the Buddha of the Future, Maitreya. The first building you come to is the private Jongsarbu Lhakhang, founded in the 18th century by the meditation master Gyam Dorje, and fronted by a lovely suntala (mandarin) tree. The main statue is of Sakyamuni in his princely Jowo form, flanked by the local protector Tsetsho Chen and a tshomen (mermaid spirit). The Tshering Lhakhang is dedicated to the goddess of longevity.

If you wish, climb the log ladder here to the cave-like Droley Lhakhang, which houses several papier mâché statues that were once used during local festivals. Parents who have just given birth to a son are supposed to come to this chapel to offer thanks. Nearby is the Guru Lhakhang, where the caretaker will tell you stories about local spirits, flying saints and magical spells, and point out sacred dagger marks in a nearby stone. Behind the main statue is a hidden chorten that allegedly has to be enclosed to prevent it flying away; the caretaker can open a little door at the back to reveal part of the chorten. The final building is the small Lhamey Lhakhang.

The approach walk is gentle and far less strenuous than the hike to Tiger's Nest, taking only about 30-40 minutes from the road to reach the temple complex, making it an accessible yet rewarding excursion. The trail begins following a dirt path which turns to climb through forests of rhododendron and oak trees with white monkeys on it. The entire village of Dzongdrakha, set up over the cliffs, stretches horizontally along the ledge, affording beautiful views of the valley below.

A tranquil village of eight farmhouses and four temples has the main temple complex situated on the cliff just above Bondey Valley.

Following your morning hike, visit the 16th-century Neyphug monastery and orphanage where some sixty orphans are homed. This relatively unknown and rarely visited Monastery is about 7 kilometers deep into the mountains over Paro Valley along a mountain road. It is a beautiful place offering a profound sense of peace and seclusion and the school is led by Neyphug Trulku Rinpoche, the founder of the school. In 2005, he returned to Bhutan as Professor of Buddhism and saw much suffering among the poor. Daily life is rugged and those living in remote areas have little means of support, surviving under extreme poverty and threats of chronic illness; he came across many orphans and abandoned children whose parents could not afford to take care of them and their desolate conditions, helplessness and hopelessness touched him deeply and inspired him to start a school.

OPTION B

For the morning and early afternoon, there is also the option of taking a longer and more strenuous trek to the spectacular Takshang Monastery, also known as the Tiger's Nest (challenging trek with an elevation gain of 500m to a height of 3,120, 4 mile trek, approximate round trip walking time including visiting the site is 4-5 hours. Only recommended for those in good physical condition and not afraid of heights!)

For those taking this option, this trek would replace the hike to Dzongdrakha Goemba and Neyphug monastery and orphanage (ie Option A) above.

Takshang Monastery is located 10kms away from Paro and is one of the most venerated sacred sites of the Himalayan world. It clings to a sheer 900m cliff above the valley and the buildings enshrine a cave where the great saint Guru Rinpoche, the father of Bhutanese Buddhism, meditated. The legend has it that Guru Rinpoche is said to have flown to the site of the monastery on the back of a tigress from Tibet and meditated in the cave there for three months. Although the main building of the temple was destroyed by a fire in 1998, much of the building has been restored to its original splendour and the hike up to the viewpoint is worthwhile and fulfilling. A pilgrimage to Takshang is the dream of a lifetime for the devout.

The hike to the monastery can be broken down into various stages (all of which can be undertaken or just the first and / or the second stage for those that do not wish to continue up to the Tigers Nest monastery itself but who just wish to enjoy the view of the monastery) -

The first stage is the trek to the cafeteria which is situated on a rocky outcrop across a ravine from the monastery. This leg of the trek takes approximately 45 to 60 minutes, depending on your level of fitness and ascends a series of switchbacks through juniper and pine forests. We do not recommend taking one of the small ponies that are available for this first leg as they can be unstable and prone to stumbling on the uneven ground). At the beautiful, traditional café called Taktsang Cafeteria (a wooden teahouse restaurant) you can stop for some tea or coffee and biscuits and savour the impressive view of Paro Valley below and the monastery above.

For those who wish to continue past the cafeteria, and who are in good physical condition, (and do not have vertigo...), the 2nd stage of the walk is from the cafeteria to the lookout opposite the monastery. This leg takes close to one hour. From here, you have a spectacular viewpoint of the monastery perched on the other side of the ravine.

The 3rd stage is the trek/climb down the 475 steps in the cliff face to the bottom of the ravine which crosses over a stream and waterfall before the path again ascends another 300+ steps to the entrance of the monastery (just prior to the entrance you'll be asked to pack up your belongings and stow them in a locker). Once here, you will be able to enter into the monastery and view the cave where Shabdrung Ngawang Namgyal meditated (cameras are not allowed inside the monastery due to it being a sacred location). The visit and climb to the entrance and back to the lookout will take approximately one hour.

The climb is steep in some places and can be unstable under foot, particularly on the downward legs as steps are only found between the view point and the monastery with the remainder of the path being dirt. Pathways / steps (some on the side of the cliff) are approximately 2 meters wide and guardrails are not in place the whole so to be sure of foot and not have a fear of heights is important.

Despite this, the journey is certainly worthwhile on account of the superb views en route. The viewpoint at the end of the second stage is at the same height (3,120m) as the actual monastery at the end of the third stage.

View from the cafeteria

After lunch, all group members will meet up and visit a Traditional Farm House.

Rich in history, the beautiful Paro Valley is a place where time stands still. In addition to a thriving commercial farming industry, the region is known for subsistence farming using time-honoured methods. Known fondly as the 'rice bowl' of the Bhutanese kingdom, the Paro Valley grows large amounts of red rice, the staple starch of the nation, farmed on its fertile fields and terraces. The region's commercial enterprises and family-owned farms also yield copious amounts of millet, wheat, apples, potatoes, as well as a range of seasonal vegetables native to the area.

The beauty of Bhutan is embellished by the clusters of quaint farm houses. Bhutanese farm houses are very colorful, decorative and traditionally built with mud and stones and without the use of single nail - all houses follow the same architectural pattern.

Visitors have the opportunity to experience the warmth of Bhutanese hospitality, savor authentic local cuisine, witness traditional farming practices, and immerse themselves in the tranquil ambiance of the countryside. It's a unique and enriching way to connect with the traditions and way of life that have endured for generations in this picturesque region of Bhutan.

Here you'll also have an opportunity to try your hand in Archery using a traditional bamboo bow & arrow.

Archery is Bhutan's national sport and integral part of all special occasions. But here's the thing – nobody really cares if they miss. The whole village shows up, brings snacks, and turns it into this massive hangout session. Kids are running around, old ladies are gossiping, and the archers are basically just having a laugh with their buddies.

Return to the hotel with some free time to relax after your exertions of the day.

For your last evening in Bhutan, enjoy a Traditional Cultural Program. All Bhutanese art, dance, drama and music has its roots in the Buddhist religion and these traditional Bhutanese cultural programs are a vibrant and captivating display of the kingdom's rich heritage and deeply rooted customs. These performances serve as a cherished medium for preserving and promoting Bhutanese culture among both locals and visitors alike. Adorned in colourful traditional attire, dancers gracefully weave stories from mythology, folklore, and daily life, accompanied by the enchanting sounds of traditional musical instruments like the dramnyen, flute, and drums including a spectrum of subgenres, ranging from folk to religious song and music. The intricate choreography and rhythmic movements, often symbolizing spiritual beliefs and nature's harmony, transport the audience to a bygone era. These cultural programs, whether held during festive celebrations, religious events, national and special occasions, instil a profound sense of pride and identity in the hearts of the Bhutanese people, celebrating their enduring cultural legacy and ensuring its continuity for generations to come.

Travel insurance information... Coverage available through Manulife Insurance

We strongly recommend that you take out travel insurance to protect you against the unexpected due to, in particular, limited provincial health care coverage afforded to Canadians while traveling overseas and the cancellation provisions inherent in your booking. We offer the following insurance coverage options through Manulife Insurance, one of Canada's leading insurance providers –

NON-MEDICAL INCLUSIVE PLAN

There are significant inherent cancellation penalties associated with your booking as detailed in our booking terms and conditions and this insurance package provides coverage for cancellation penalties if you should have to cancel due to medical, or other listed, reasons either relating to yourself or a member of your immediate family. It also covers you for trip interruption costs short notice return flight home etc) for medical reasons again, either relating to yourself or an immediate family member as well as flight and travel accident and baggage insurance.

ALL INCLUSIVE PLAN

This plan provides coverage for all the components in the Non-medical Inclusive plan, plus health coverage while in the destination

"Cancel for any reason (CFAR)" coverage - NEW and at no additional cost !!

So long as you purchase either of the two insurance policies above at the same time as your tour booking, you are automatically entitled to this added benefit of CFAR coverage whereby, if you need to cancel your tour booking up to 14 days or more before departure for any reason, your policy will refund you up to a maximum of 50% of the cancellation penalties incurred. This is excellent peace of mind coverage to protect you against (50% of the) cancellation penalties incurred in a situation where the reason for cancellation is not one of the regular covered risks in your policy (ie it is essentially "change of mind" insurance).

PREMIUM PROTECTION PLAN ("PPP")

As a third option, Manulife is now also offering a new enhanced travel insurance policy, their Premium Protection Plan ("PPP"). This is Manulife's most comprehensive coverage, providing all the same types of coverage as the All-Inclusive plan (above) but with higher covered amounts in most areas. It is also a simplified policy in so much that, whereas the All-Inclusive plan and Non-medical Inclusive plan (above, and as is the case with most insurance company travel policies) have a list of specific covered events, the PPP offers cancellation coverage for any unexpected and unforeseen event (ie., any event, situation or circumstance that is beyond your control that prevents you from travelling) with only a few exclusions that apply.

An overview of the PPP may be found by clicking here

A comparison of the enhanced benefits provided by the PPP compared to Manulife's regular All Inclusive plan may be found by clicking here

A major benefit of the PPP is that coverage for reimbursement of inherent cancellation penalties under the Cancel For Any Reason (CFAR)" coverage is increased to 80% of the cancellation penalties incurred for all cancellation up to 7 days or more before departure.

Please note, the PPP is only available to clients under the age of 75 (at the date of purchase of the insurance coverage) and must be purchased at the same time as the travel tour booking is made (72 hour grace period).

A detailed overview of coverage benefits and limitations of each insurance policy that we offer through Manulife may be found at -

For residents of Ontario, simply accept your choice of insurance (Non-medical Inclusive, All-Inclusive or Premium Protection coverage) on our online registration form and we will apply the premium above on your invoice confirmation (if using our pdf registration form, enter the applicable premium from the above table when completing the registration form)

For residents of Canadian provinces other than Ontario, insurance regulations state that travel insurance should be taken out directly with Manulife Insurance, albeit through a direct web link hosted on our web site, ie you should purchase your travel insurance policy by simply following the link below to take advantage of our preferred rates with Manulife) via our company's exclusive Manulife link:

<https://www.igoinsured.com/Direct/ManulifeGlobal.aspx?ag=ONTOTPR&lang=E>

Non-Canadian residents

For residents of countries outside of Canada (including the USA), insurance regulations allow us to sell "Trip Cancellation" insurance (this policy includes both trip cancellation and trip interruption coverage but not medical coverage). Hence it is not possible for non-Canadian residents to purchase either the All Inclusive or Premium Protection plans from Manulife. We do find that many of our overseas clients already have medical insurance through other channels and therefore, if this is the case, you may purchase "Trip Cancellation" coverage by following the link below to purchase the "Trip Cancellation" insurance policy (taking advantage of our preferred rates with Manulife) via our company's exclusive Manulife link:

IMPORTANT INFORMATION

Travel insurance that may be available through your credit card

When considering any of the travel insurance policies above, if you believe you may have coverage through your credit card we would strongly advise checking with the credit card company the actual coverage afforded to ensure it covers medical, trip cancellation and trip interruption as not all of these items are covered (or may only offer limited coverage as to trip duration or insured $amount in the event of a claim - sometimes as low as only $1,000 per person) by all kinds of cards. Also, most coverage through credit card benefits does not include Cancel For Any Reason (CFAR) coverage.
